

How Are the Wetlands Changing within Elkhorn Slough? Come See for Yourself!

Bank erosion causing marsh loss near Kirby Park

Join us for a Community Walking Tour on Saturday, Dec. 2nd

-
- When: Saturday, Dec. 2nd, 2-3:30 pm
Where: Kirby Park, just North of the Elkhorn Slough Reserve Visitor Center (4.5 miles north of the intersection of Elkhorn Road and Dolan Road)
<http://elkhornslough.org/map.htm>
Who: Hosted by the Tidal Wetland Project of the Elkhorn Slough Reserve

If you are interested in attending this FREE community event, please RSVP to Kim Merin at kmerin@elkhornslough.org or (831) 728-5939 x242.

Have you heard about marsh loss and bank erosion in Elkhorn Slough but aren't really sure what that means or looks like? Want to learn more about Elkhorn Slough and recent changes within the wetlands?

Then join fellow community members on this educational walking tour of the wetlands of Elkhorn Slough's Kirby Park. During this leisurely walk, we will learn how this natural area has changed over the years and what current efforts are underway to keep the Slough healthy for all those who rely on it.

Don't miss this opportunity to see for yourself what's happening in the Slough!

This event will take place rain or shine. Space is limited, so please RSVP. The walking path is paved but we still encourage you to wear comfortable walking shoes. If you are a non-native English speaker and would like a translator during the tour, or if you have any special needs, please contact Kim Merin at (831) 728-5939 x242. If you would like to attend but cannot do so on a weekend, or if you would like to arrange a separate group tour, please email kmerin@elkhornslough.org and we will try to create additional tours.

For more information, please go to www.elkhornslough.org/tidalwetlandplan

Si necesitan esta información en español, favor de llamar (831) 728-5939 x242.